When one of your employees is injured, you’re suddenly faced with what can be an overwhelming challenge. That’s when you need Summit to take the hassle out of workers’ compensation by actively managing your employee’s care.

Imagine workers’ comp made simpler

- You adjustor clearly explains your coverage.
- Your employee receives high-quality care at a price that won’t push your workers’ comp premiums through the roof.
- A licensed team reviews the medical costs for you. Payments are made promptly.

Summit manages your injured worker’s care the right way

- A custom, contracted provider network of more than 16,000 doctors and medical facilities is in place to handle medical treatment. Each provider is prescreened, credentialed and skilled in workers’ comp injuries.
- A network doctor becomes the medical care coordinator for your employee, providing top-quality treatment and making necessary referrals to skilled specialists.
- As soon as your injured employee is treated by the network physician, a medical treatment plan is created.
- Approximately 300 experienced Summit claims professionals—including a staff of licensed nurses and two full-time doctors—handle all types of workers’ comp claims from start to finish.
- Summit’s physicians are available to review medical decisions to ensure your injured worker receives proper care.
- Our nurse case managers review claims as needed to ensure that care is appropriate and focused on returning your employee to work.

- You will typically receive periodic work status reports to let you know when your employee will be able to return to work.
- Our preset fee arrangements keep medical costs under control, and we keep an eye out for unneeded expenses.
- A grievance coordinator is available to resolve any issues your injured workers may have concerning medical care.
- Through our specialized network and cost containment services, Summit generates an average savings of more than 50 percent off the billed amount on medical invoices.
- Summit provides a prescription drug program especially for injured workers that results in estimated claims savings in excess of $1 million annually.
- Our primary goal is to facilitate seamless communication between you, your injured worker and the medical provider—which enables us to provide one of the most effective managed care programs available.
